

I am absolutely opposed to any loop hole that can be created for my home to be invaded by unwanted telephone calls from any business, whether I choose to do business with them or not. If I do business with them I certainly know where to find them if I need them. They should not assume that I am too ignorant to conduct my own business